Bankruptcy, Bad service, constipation, obsession, Food and of course, Kippi; that is Martin K. Ppenhager are the ingredients of Jay Battle's exhibition at Kippi (if you didn't know who Kippi is you are really going to miss a lot of the significance of the show) is the central figure of Jay's current body of work. While purposely visually similar, the work also channels the spirit of M.K.'s word play with and urgency of gesture. But more than anything it has wet my appetite for the sumptuous pigs and I am going to feast on with our tribe of friends on the eve of his opening cheers!
